JOURNAL DESCRIPTION

ERIGENIA is a peer-reviewed journal of the Illinois Native Plant Society. We invite the submission of original articles on the botanical resources of Illinois and adjacent states. Topics accepted include the following:

TAXONOMY of vascular plants, mosses, algae, lichens, and fungi;
FLORISTICS and NOTEWORTHY COLLECTIONS (complete with voucher specimen citations);
ECOLOGY of species, communities, and their biotic and abiotic interactions;
RESTORATION AND MANAGEMENT of natural areas;
NATURAL HISTORY of Illinois including geology and biogeography;
ETHNOBOTANY of native plants;
HORTICULTURE as it relates to native plants in restored or cultural environments, and
BIOGRAPHICAL REVIEWS of botanists and explorers.
BOOK REVIEWS of botanical interest.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS – GENERAL GUIDELINES

Authors may submit material in an e-mail attachment to erigenia.editor@gmail.com. Manuscripts must be submitted as a Microsoft Word© document. Use Times New Roman 12-pt font, double line spacing, 1-inch margins, left-side alignment, and number each page. Include any tables on separate page(s) at end of document. Place figure captions at the end of the Word document. Figures must be separate files with figure number in file name. Tables and illustrations must fit in a 7 x 9 inch area. Retain copies of each file.

TITLE PAGE – For each author, list affiliation, street address, and e-mail addresses; for corresponding author, include telephone number.

ABSTRACTS – All papers should include an abstract with up to 250 words. The ABSTRACT should state goals, principal results, and major conclusions of the paper.

TAXONOMIC NAMES – Cite the botanical nomenclature utilized in the manuscript or, alternatively, include taxonomic authority for each taxon. Common names should be referenced following first use of a scientific name; thereafter, scientific or common names can be used alone if done so consistently. Lists of species in tables and appendices need only to include scientific name.

PROOFS – Authors will have the opportunity to review and make any necessary corrections on their articles before publication.

See SPECIFIC FORMATTING GUIDELINES (<http://www.ill-inps.org/erigenia>) for more details. Correctly formatted manuscripts that meet the journal goals will undergo a peer-review process.

SPECIFIC FORMATTING GUIDELINES

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

Submitted manuscripts must be in English language to be considered for review. Submit by e-mail to erigenia.editor@gmail.com. Please provide e-mail addresses of all authors. Following submission, the corresponding author will receive an acknowledgement e-mail and all co-authors will be contacted for notification of their affiliation to the submitted manuscript.

Below are formatting guidelines for manuscript preparation. Submission of a manuscript implies that the work described has not been published before nor is under consideration anywhere else. It is assumed that prior approval for content has been provided by any co-authors.

PERMISSIONS

Authors wishing to include figures, tables, or text passages that have already been published must obtain permission from the copyright owner(s) for re-use. Any material received without such evidence will be assumed to originate from the authors.

FORMATTING GUIDELINES

Include Title Page, Abstract, Keywords, Acknowledgements, Manuscript.

Title Page

Include:

- The name(s) of the author(s)
- A concise and informative title
- The affiliation(s) and street address(es) of the author(s)
- The e-mail address, and telephone number(s) of the corresponding author.

Abstract

Provide an abstract of 150 to 250 words. The abstract should not contain any undefined abbreviations, acronyms, or unspecified references.

Keywords

Provide 4 to 6 keywords or phrases not used in title for indexing purposes.

Acknowledgements

Document funding sources and assistance.

Manuscript

Research papers:

- Generally should include Introduction, Methods, Results, Discussion, and Literature Cited sections. In Introduction, include study goals and the primary research questions. For floristics manuscripts, guidelines found in Palmer and Richardson (2012) provide a useful framework for effective studies.

Palmer, M. W. and J. C. Richardson. 2012. Biodiversity data in the information age: do 21st Century floras make the grade? Castanea 77(1):46-59.

Text formatting guidelines:

- Manuscripts should be developed using 12-point Times New Roman for text with double line spacing, 1-inch margins, and left-aligned.
- Scientific names: Use italics. Use of common names (e.g., in parentheses) with first usage of a species name is encouraged (except Tables, Figures). Cite botanical nomenclature utilized in Methods; otherwise, include authority for each taxon.
- Use automatic page numbering to number lines and pages.
- Use tab stops for indents, not the space bar.
- Use the equation editor for equations.
- Save your file in *.docx format (MS Word).

Headings:

- Please use no more than three levels of displayed headings; SMALL CAPS for major units (e.g., INTRODUCTION), Bold for Sections, Underline for Subsections

Abbreviations:

Abbreviations and acronyms should be defined at first mention and used consistently thereafter.

Footnotes:

Footnotes can be used to give additional information and are numbered consecutively.

Citations:

Cite references in the text by name and year in parentheses. Some examples:

- The results are consistent with other findings (Thompson 1990).
- This result contradicts findings by Becker and Seligman (1996).
- This effect has been widely studied (Abbott 1991; Baker et al. 1995a, b; Kemp and Solter 1998; Dawson et al. 1999, 2000).

Literature Cited:

The list of references should only include works that are cited in the text and that have been published or accepted for publication. Personal communications and unpublished works should only be mentioned in the text. Do not use footnotes or endnotes as a substitute for a reference list. Reference list entries should be alphabetized by the last names of the first author of each work. Order chronologically any multi-author publications with same first author. Reference style examples are listed below.

Tables:

Use the table function in Word or tabs, not spreadsheets. All tables are to be numbered using Arabic numerals and should always be cited in text in consecutive numerical order. For each table, supply a table caption above the table explaining the components of the table and defining any abbreviations.

Figures:

Supply all figures electronically as separate files. Indicate using file suffix what graphics program was used to create the artwork. For vector graphics, the preferred format is Encapsulated Postscript (EPS); for halftones, please use Tag Image File Format (TIFF). Microsoft Office© files are also acceptable. Vector graphics containing fonts must have the fonts embedded in the files. Name your figure files with "Fig" and the figure number, e.g., Fig 1.eps.

For line figures (black and white graphic with no shading), consider readability by avoiding faint lines and lettering. Scanned line drawings and line drawings in bitmap format should have a minimum resolution of 1200 dpi.

Halftone figures (photographs, drawings, or paintings) should have a minimum resolution of 300 dots per inch (dpi). Color illustrations are unavailable at this time.

Use consistent font size for lettering throughout artwork. Do not include titles or captions within your illustrations. All figures are to be numbered using Arabic numerals and cited in text in consecutive numerical order. Each figure should have a concise caption describing what the figure depicts. Include the captions at the end of the manuscript text file, not in the figure file.
